

Lord Shaftesbury

Lord Shaftesbury campaigned with others to protect children through laws.

Work

Shaftesbury supported the 1842 Mines Act.

It banned underground work for women, girls and boys under ten.

Boys aged ten and over could still work underground.

Learning

Ragged schools gave poorer children a chance to learn without paying school fees.

Shaftesbury helped support schools that others ran.